R.I.P to a man that I considered family, William Delaney, who was affectionately known to me as uncle Bill. My heart goes out to the Delaney family.

Condolences to the Family of William Delaney I just found out today he passed away on Tuesday, April 30th. This man reminded me of my dad so much. He was such a gentleman, intelligent and family oriented, He lost his wife, children and always expressed his love for them. Author of several books, retired military, police officer. He was never afraid to speak his truth, pertaining to his life experience which includes religion and politics. I am going to miss you. and your compliments.

Rest in Peace, Bill
