Hello. This is Brock, Gary's son. Dad did pass away tonight. He was resting very peacefully. His fight with cancer is finally over. He can now be at peace.

My apologies to all his family and friends for your loss. Thank you to everyone that reached out and kept him in your prayers during everything.

I wish I had a better way of letting people know, unfortunately I could not get into his phone or could think of another way to communicate. Again thank you all for your thoughts and prayers. I know they meant a lot to him.
